Credit-quality ratings for each issue are obtained from Bloomberg, Inc. using ratings derived from Standard & Poor's (S&P), Moody's Investors Service (Moody's) and Fitch Ratings. These ratings represent the opinions of their respective organizations as to the quality of the securities they rate. S&P ratings range from AAA (extremely strong capacity to meet its financial commitment) to D (in default), while Moody's ratings range from Aaa (best quality issue with lowest risk) to C (poor grade with high risk). Fitch ratings range from AAA (investment grade) to D (speculative). Unrated securities do not necessarily indicate low quality. Ratings are relative and are not absolute standards of quality. Quality ratings reflect the credit quality of the underlying securities in the Fund's portfolio and not that of the Fund itself. Quality ratings are subject to change.

¹ Fixed Income/Equity Holdings: Fund holdings are for illustrative purposes, subject to change and should not be considered a recommendation to buy or sell securities. Current and future portfolio holdings are subject to risk. Average duration measures a fixed income portfolio's price sensitivity to interest changes. Weighted average maturity is the weighted average time (in years) until the securities in a fixed income portfolio will mature. Average credit quality provides investors with an idea as to a fund's credit quality. It also helps to identify the overall risk with a bond portfolio. A lower weighted average credit weighting means a bond fund is more risky than one with a higher rating.

Adviser invests only in securities that meet the Fund's investment and religious requirements. Returns may be lower or higher than if decisions were based solely on investment considerations. The method of security selection may or may not be successful and the Fund may underperform or outperform the stock market as a whole. All mutual funds are subject to market risk, including possible loss of principal. The Fund's investments in small- and mid-capitalization companies could experience greater volatility than investments in large-capitalization companies. The Fund invests primarily in fixed income securities and as a result the Fund is also subject to the following risks: interest rate risk, credit risk, credit rating risk and liquidity risk. Investment performance assumes reinvestment of dividends and capital gains distributions. Performance data reflects certain fee waivers and reimbursements. Without such waivers, performance would have been lower. Bloomberg Intermediate US Gov/Credit Index is the benchmark index used for comparative purposes for this fund. The Bloomberg US Aggregate Bond Index is a broad-based benchmark that measures the investment grade, US dollar-denominated, fixed-rate taxable bond market. The index includes Treasuries, government-related and corporate securities, fixed-rate agency MBS, ABS and CMBS (agency and non-agency). Indexes do not incur fees and it is not possible to invest directly in an index.
